CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

Cured by Eupesia Tablets.

Catarrh of the stomach is like catarrh of the nose. In the latter case you can't breathe freely through your nostrils, and in the former case your stomach is seething up. The food you eat is not digested and lies there like so much dead weight. This brings on heartburn, indigestion, sleeplessness, tiredness, etc. It is a fact that one of the most common causes of decay of the teeth is stomach trouble. Of course we are glad that Mr. Payton is cured and that we, through Eupesia Tablets, have the honor of curing him, but what was the sense of delaying all these years? Why not get the right remedy at the right moment when the trouble began? Still, get it any time, even later is better than never, but Mr. Payton's case is a warning to all suffering from stomach trouble of any kind. It is wholly unnecessary when Eupesia Tablets can be had for 25 cents a box, with a cure guaranteed or money refunded. Here is the appreciative letter of Mr. Payton's, and mark well every word of it.

"I have been troubled for years with indigestion and catarrh of the stomach; have tried every known remedy, but found nothing to equal Eupesia Tablets. I can now eat meat or any kind of stomach diet without feeling any bad effect." JOHN C. PAYTON, Queen City, Mo.

Eupesia Tablets will cure every disease that affects the stomach, as well as all diseases that are caused by stomach trouble, such as indigestion, heartburn, sleeplessness, after eating, nausea, foul breath, bloated stomach, heartburn, obesity, thinness, weak blood, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, yellow complexion and all other accompanying ailments. Eupesia Tablets help the stomach to do its work. It is the only remedy that affords a guarantee to cure or money refunded. 25 cents a box (enough for two weeks), at all drug stores. Money loaned on stomach trouble sent FREE.

EDITOR FINNEY TO BE TRIED.

Charged With Killing S. H. Allen at Marble Hill, Mo.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Lutesville, Mo., March 5.—The trial of J. G. Finney, who in last October shot and killed S. H. Allen on the streets of Marble Hill, will begin tomorrow.

Finney is charged with murder in the first degree and it is expected that the State will attempt to show that the shooting was the result of a quarrel between the two men.

Finney was for many years editor of the Marble Hill Press and Bollinger County Times and was prominent in politics and public affairs.

Some thirty or forty witnesses have been subpoenaed and the trial will probably consume four or five days. Attorney W. H. Caldwell, William Morgan and Mills Finney will represent the defendant.

IMPOSED TAX ON PETROLEUM.

French Chamber Held Sunday Session to Finish Budget.

Paris, March 9.—Anxious to dispose of the budget, the Chamber adopted the unusual course of sitting on Sunday and has held two lengthy sessions to-day.

The Chamber passed a law imposing a tax of 1 franc per 100 kilograms on crude petroleum.

In the course of the discussion of an amendment to the next law, the Chamber declared that the United States have adopted plans for the construction of armored cruisers of the same tonnage and speed as those included in the naval program of France.

The budget for 1902 was finally adopted by a vote of 366 to 64, and the Chamber of Deputies then adjourned.

ACCUSED OF CRIME BEFORE HE WAS BORN

Experience of an Official of Department of Justice With Politicians at Washington.

HIS APPOINTMENT HELD UP.

When He Hurried to Washington to Ascertain the Cause, He Was Amused to Learn of Absurd Charges Against Him.

The Republic, Havana, 14th St. and Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, March 8.—The uniformity with which charges are filed against Missouri Republicans who are applicants for office caused an official of the Department of Justice yesterday to relate an experience of his own.

"I myself was accused of bribery and murder," he said. "I was seeking a berth as Assistant United States Attorney, and my candidacy was objectionable to the political combinations which controlled the disposition of the Federal patronage in my State. Ostensibly, the main point urged against my selection had been my youth, which was forcibly contrasted with the years and experience of the candidates they advocated. Nevertheless, one day the Attorney General told me that he intended to appoint me. I at once hurried to my hotel, packed my grip and, homeward bound, started down the avenue for the station. On my way I met the politicians who had been fighting my appointment, and, in answer to their inquiries, very foolishly told them that I did not expect to return to Washington for some time.

"Myself was accused of bribery and murder," he said. "I was seeking a berth as Assistant United States Attorney, and my candidacy was objectionable to the political combinations which controlled the disposition of the Federal patronage in my State. Ostensibly, the main point urged against my selection had been my youth, which was forcibly contrasted with the years and experience of the candidates they advocated. On my way I met the politicians who had been fighting my appointment, and, in answer to their inquiries, very foolishly told them that I did not expect to return to Washington for some time.

Why the Appointment Was Delayed.

"Each day I expected my appointment to be announced, but I was disappointed. After a week or so I began to feel uneasy and hurried to the Department of Justice, where I was soon admitted to see the Attorney General.

"What has you to say, sir?" at once said that official, to these charges which have been preferred against you?

"Somewhat dazed, I reviewed my short career and, reassured thereby, I finally asked the nature of the charges against me.

"It is charged," read the Attorney General, "that while member of the State Legislature, you offered Senator Blank $200 to vote for a certain bill then pending before the State Senate. In addition, you are charged with having shot and killed John Blank and with having been found guilty of murder and sentenced to the Penitentiary. It is admitted, however, that you escaped by your own resources, and that you are attending your trial in the lower court."

Got His Appointment.

"Before the Attorney General had read ten words of the charges, I understood the politician's reasons for filing such a tissue of lies and fabrications. Knowing that I would be out of the city some time, and that in the ordinary routine of the Department of Justice it would be at least three weeks before investigation would show the truth—these groundless charges had been filed simply to prevent my immediate appointment, and in the hope that at that time, by bringing additional influence to bear, they could secure the appointment of their candidate.

"Several gentlemen of my name had been members of our State Legislature, while the defendant in our leading case on murder also possessed the same patronymic.

"My Attorney General replied, 'I was never a member of the Legislature in my life. I was not interested in any way in the bill you mention, and I never saw Senator Blank in my life until he opposed me for this appointment. I am only 25 years old, and you mention me as having been a member of the Legislature for forty years, and the record shows that the murderer was sentenced to the Penitentiary for thirty-nine years ago.'

"The Attorney General did not say a word. He signed his name to a sheet lying on his desk, inserted my name and handed it to me with a smile. It was my appointment as Assistant Attorney."

ST. ROSE'S PARISH SCHOOL AND CLUBHOUSE.

Bowling alleys of the club are in the basement; hall and reading-room on second floor.

Club life under church influence is the plan and purpose of the St. Rose Parish Club, an organization which has its bowling alleys, card tables, reading-room, piano and hall for club entertainments in the St. Rose Parish school building, corner of Goodfellow and Elzel avenues, by the St. Rose Catholic Church. The club is open to members every afternoon and evening until 10:30, except that on Sundays it is opened at 2 o'clock p. m. and closed during church services. The observance of holidays and such other regulations as govern the church govern the club.

The St. Rose Parish Club was organized about four months ago as the result of suggestions growing out of the weekly meetings of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the monthly meetings of the parish association. These meetings last, usually, about an hour. Members in attendance often sat around for an hour afterwards, talking. One night somebody suggested a game of euchre. Then euchre, whist and other games became a regular feature of the weekly meetings, till it was suggested that bowling alleys be built. The outcome was the St. Rose Parish Club, which, from the day of its opening, has been a popular and successful beyond the expectation of Father McGinnis, the pastor. Father Schmitt, his assistant, or, indeed, of any of the officers of the club or its most enthusiastic members.

The membership is now over one hundred. Young people of the parish, and a great many of the older ones, spend their evenings here, and of reach of the parish club influences that they might encounter in other places. The young ladies bowl in clubs, and often as many as four nights in the week are taken by these parties. Often the young men make up parties among their long friends, and twelve or fourteen couples engage the alleys for the evening. On open evenings only young men attend.

The charge is nominal, being only half the amount for bowling that is charged in public alleys. The dues are a dollar a year, and each member is charged 25 cents initiation fee. The revenue is used for the purchase of light, janitor work and repairs. The club is only in the beginning of its work. The library, and all instructions any new room fitted up. A pool table has been ordered. Next year there will be music entertainments by members of the club, lectures and readings by popular entertainers.

"Our object," said Mr. Edward Devoy, president of the club, "is to promote acquaintance among the younger members of the parish, and the older people as well, to afford them an opportunity for beautiful amusement and diversion under good influences. We hope to make the club a means also of developing the talent of the young people. We don't know how many good musicians and young people with good voices we had in the parish until the meetings of the club furnished an occasion for bringing these facts out. The club has been very popular, both with the old and young. We are only beginning. We hope to double the membership, and the club facilities within the next six months."

The active direction of the club is under the management of Secretary John J. Duffy, who is present every day for a part of the open hours, and who attends to the enforcement of regulations governing meetings.

The officers of the club are: President, Edward Devoy; vice president, John J. Duffy; secretary, John J. Duffy; treasurer, the Reverend J. G. Schmitt, assistant pastor, St. Rose's church; Finance and House Committee, William McCabe, P. J. Connor, John Coughlan, P. DeBono, F. P. Gorman and David Lane.

MACHINE POLITICS BY YATES FACTION

Early Convention Held in Counties Controlled by the Syndicate for Future Effect.

RESULTS OBTAINED TO DATE.

Most of the Conventions Were Owned by the Administration Followers—Echo of Sangamon County Primaries.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Springfield, Ill., March 9.—Fourteen Republican county conventions have been held. Most of them were owned by the Yates-Hopkins faction syndicate. It appears to be their policy to call the conventions they are sure to carry early, and by force of example sweep the hard wagon counties into their ten. It isn't a bad scheme. But all the counties thus far carried by the syndicate, excepting Sangamon, were conceded to the opposition.

"Our object," said Mr. Edward Devoy, president of the club, "is to promote acquaintance among the younger members of the parish, and the older people as well, to afford them an opportunity for beautiful amusement and diversion under good influences. We hope to make the club a means also of developing the talent of the young people. We don't know how many good musicians and young people with good voices we had in the parish until the meetings of the club furnished an occasion for bringing these facts out. The club has been very popular, both with the old and young. We are only beginning. We hope to double the membership, and the club facilities within the next six months."

The active direction of the club is under the management of Secretary John J. Duffy, who is present every day for a part of the open hours, and who attends to the enforcement of regulations governing meetings.

The officers of the club are: President, Edward Devoy; vice president, John J. Duffy; secretary, John J. Duffy; treasurer, the Reverend J. G. Schmitt, assistant pastor, St. Rose's church; Finance and House Committee, William McCabe, P. J. Connor, John Coughlan, P. DeBono, F. P. Gorman and David Lane.

Club life under church influence is the plan and purpose of the St. Rose Parish Club, an organization which has its bowling alleys, card tables, reading-room, piano and hall for club entertainments in the St. Rose Parish school building, corner of Goodfellow and Elzel avenues, by the St. Rose Catholic Church. The club is open to members every afternoon and evening until 10:30, except that on Sundays it is opened at 2 o'clock p. m. and closed during church services. The observance of holidays and such other regulations as govern the church govern the club.

The St. Rose Parish Club was organized about four months ago as the result of suggestions growing out of the weekly meetings of the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the monthly meetings of the parish association. These meetings last, usually, about an hour. Members in attendance often sat around for an hour afterwards, talking. One night somebody suggested a game of euchre. Then euchre, whist and other games became a regular feature of the weekly meetings, till it was suggested that bowling alleys be built. The outcome was the St. Rose Parish Club, which, from the day of its opening, has been a popular and successful beyond the expectation of Father McGinnis, the pastor. Father Schmitt, his assistant, or, indeed, of any of the officers of the club or its most enthusiastic members.

The membership is now over one hundred. Young people of the parish, and a great many of the older ones, spend their evenings here, and of reach of the parish club influences that they might encounter in other places. The young ladies bowl in clubs, and often as many as four nights in the week are taken by these parties. Often the young men make up parties among their long friends, and twelve or fourteen couples engage the alleys for the evening. On open evenings only young men attend.

The charge is nominal, being only half the amount for bowling that is charged in public alleys. The dues are a dollar a year, and each member is charged 25 cents initiation fee. The revenue is used for the purchase of light, janitor work and repairs. The club is only in the beginning of its work. The library, and all instructions any new room fitted up. A pool table has been ordered. Next year there will be music entertainments by members of the club, lectures and readings by popular entertainers.
